Subject: Gratitude note on the Occasion of the Completion of my Ph.D.

Respected Sir,

I am Anush Gasparyan, was a PhD scholar pursuing Ph.D (Law) at the Faculty of Law University of Delhi from Armenia , thesis topic ISSUES RELATED TO WORKING WOMEN IN ORGANISED SECTOR: A COMPARATIVE STUDY OF LAWS AND PRACTICE IN INDIA AND ARMENIA from 2-261/2015-16/ISD-II to June 2021.

With this email I want to express my gratitude to each one of you at ICCR and Embassy of India in Armenia for my education and experience in India.

Please see below gratitude note:

"My parents gave me wings, taught me to fly and ICCR provided me sky, with no limits..."

To go, to say goodbye is always hard, it is harder when you leave a family behind. ICCR is the family that I am leaving behind in my second home India.

Role of ICCR in the journey of the achievement of the set goals of a foreign student is remarkable. ICCR is not a mere an organization providing financial support for educational purposes, ICCR is a strong pillar of each foreigner traveling behind the dreams of success and illumination. Each member of the ICCR family, stands for motivating, encouraging, comforting, securing, advising throughout stay and education in India.

I express my gratitude to the Embassy of India in Armenia for introducing ICCR and providing me with the opportunity to continue my education and discover the beauty of India.

India is the land which carries the earliest history of our kinsman Aryan blood. The land of great teachings, the land of Ganges, Buddha, the land which faced Mohammedan conquest and the settlement of Dutch, Portuguese, English and French. The country called Hindustan was and is a gem in the earth with its unique ability of uniting its nation. India's biggest triumph is being true to the values of its own land and religious teachings through centuries. The secret of uniting such a diverse nation is tolerance, love and respect of others' way of life. The country has a beautiful harmonization for every being of its land. This is the place where every teaching is directed to the art of balancing. From insects to plants, from fishes to birds, from moon to sun, from rain to wind, from human to animal every single aspect of the planet has its own significance and importance in this country.

Going ahead in life, being exposed to a change is a natural phenomenon, however there are some changes that are shaping our personality and life; hence I am leaving with the most valuable treasures of India which are wisdom, tolerance, kindness, respect, mindfulness etc. Qualities gained in India, with the help of ICCR are life changing.

I fold my hands and bow my head with the immense respect for everyone at the ICCR and Embassy of India in Armenia for their hard work and care I have been provided during years of my education.

Namaste,

Forever yours,

Anush Gasparyan from Armenia
